NONFINAL OFFICE ACTION

The USPTO must receive applicant's response to this letter within six months of the issue date below or the application will be abandoned. Respond using the Trademark Electronic Application System (TEAS). A link to the appropriate TEAS response form appears at the end of this Office action.

Issue date: August 23, 2022

The referenced application has been reviewed by the assigned trademark examining attorney. Applicant must respond timely and completely to the issue(s) below. 15 U.S.C. §1062(b); 37 C.F.R. §§2.62(a), 2.65(a); TMEP §§711, 718.03.

SUMMARY OF ISSUES:

- SECTION 2(d) REFUSAL – LIKELIHOOD OF CONFUSION

SECTION 2(d) REFUSAL – LIKELIHOOD OF CONFUSION

Registration of the applied-for mark is refused because of a likelihood of confusion with the mark in U.S. Registration No. 2855971. Trademark Act Section 2(d), 15 U.S.C. §1052(d); see TMEP §§1207.01 et seq. See the attached registration.

Applicant has applied to register the mark, ATLAS WILD in standard characters for "On-line retail store services featuring supplements" in International Class 035.

Registrant's mark is ATLAS NUTRITION in standard characters for "Nutritional Supplements" in International Class 005.

Similarity of the Marks

Marks are compared in their entireties for similarities in appearance, sound, connotation, and commercial impression. Stone Lion Capital Partners, LP v. Lion Capital LLP, 746 F.3d 1317, 1321, 110 USPQ2d 1157, 1160 (Fed. Cir. 2014) (quoting Palm Bay Imps., Inc. v. Veuve Clicquot Ponsardin Maison Fondee En 1772, 396 F.3d 1369, 1371, 73 USPQ2d 1689, 1691 (Fed. Cir. 2005)); TMEP §1207.01(b)-(b)(v). "Similarity in any one of these elements may be sufficient to find the marks confusingly similar." In re Inn at St. John's, LLC, 126 USPQ2d 1742, 1746 (TTAB 2018) (citing In re Davia, 110 USPQ2d 1810, 1812 (TTAB 2014)), aff'd per curiam, 777 F. App'x 516, 2019 BL 343921 (Fed. Cir. 2019); TMEP §1207.01(b).

Applicant's mark is ATLAS WILD in standard characters; Registrant's mark is ATLAS NUTRITION in standard characters. The marks create the same commercial impression because they contain the same dominant element, namely, ATLAS.

Consumers are generally more inclined to focus on the first word, prefix, or syllable in any trademark or service mark. See Palm Bay Imps., Inc. v. Veuve Clicquot Ponsardin Maison Fondee En 1772, 396 F.3d 1369, 1372, 73 USPQ2d 1689, 1692 (Fed. Cir. 2005) (finding similarity between VEUVE ROYALE and two VEUVE CLICQUOT marks in part because "VEUVE . . . remains a 'prominent feature' as the first word in the mark and the first word to appear on the label"); Century 21 Real Estate Corp. v. Century Life of Am., 970 F.2d 874, 876, 23 USPQ2d 1698, 1700 (Fed Cir. 1992) (finding similarity between CENTURY 21 and CENTURY LIFE OF AMERICA in part because "consumers must first notice th[e] identical lead word"); see also In re Detroit Athletic Co., 903 F.3d 1297, 1303, 128 USPQ2d 1047, 1049 (Fed. Cir. 2018) (finding “the identity of the marks’ two initial words is particularly significant because consumers typically notice those words first”). In the present case applicant’s mark ATLAS WILD and the cited mark ATLAS NUTRITION both begin with the word ATLAS, making ATLAS the dominant portion of each mark, and leaving the remaining portion of each mark, namely, WILD and NUTRITION, as less significant.

Marks may be confusingly similar in appearance where similar terms or phrases or similar parts of terms or phrases appear in the compared marks and create a similar overall commercial impression. See Crocker Nat'l Bank v. Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, 228 USPQ 689, 690-91 (TTAB 1986), aff'd sub nom. Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce v. Wells Fargo Bank, Nat'l Ass'n, 811 F.2d 1490, 1495, 1 USPQ2d 1813, 1817 (Fed. Cir. 1987) (holding COMM CASH and COMMUNICASH confusingly similar); In re Corning Glass Works, 229 USPQ 65, 66 (TTAB 1985) (holding CONFIRM and CONFIRMCELLS confusingly similar); In re Pellerin Milnor Corp., 221 USPQ 558, 560 (TTAB 1983) (holding MILTRON and MILLTRONICS confusingly similar); TMEP §1207.01(b)(ii)-(iii). Here as in the cases above, the marks both contain the dominant term ATLAS which creates a similar overall commercial impression in each mark, making consumer confusion likely.

Although marks are compared in their entireties, one feature of a mark may be more significant or dominant in creating a commercial impression. See In re Viterra Inc., 671 F.3d 1358, 1362, 101 USPQ2d 1905, 1908 (Fed. Cir. 2012); In re Nat'l Data Corp., 753 F.2d 1056, 1058, 224 USPQ 749, 751 (Fed. Cir. 1985); TMEP §1207.01(b)(viii), (c)(ii). Disclaimed matter that is descriptive of or generic for a party’s goods and/or services is typically less significant or less dominant when comparing marks. In re Detroit Athletic Co., 903 F.3d 1297, 1305, 128 USPQ2d 1047, 1050 (Fed. Cir. 2018) (citing In re Dixie Rests., Inc., 105 F.3d 1405, 1407, 41 USPQ2d 1531, 1533-34 (Fed. Cir. 1997)); TMEP §1207.01(b)(viii), (c)(ii). In the case of the cited mark, NUTRITION has been disclaimed as descriptive of registrant’s goods, leaving ATLAS as the more dominant portion of the mark, as detailed above.

Because the marks contain the same dominant element and thus create the same commercial impression, the marks are considered similar for likelihood of confusion purposes.

Relatedness of the Goods and Services

The compared goods and/or services need not be identical or even competitive to find a likelihood of confusion. See On-line Careline Inc. v. Am. Online Inc., 229 F.3d 1080, 1086, 56 USPQ2d 1471, 1475 (Fed. Cir. 2000); Recot, Inc. v. Becton, 214 F.3d 1322, 1329, 54 USPQ2d 1894, 1898 (Fed. Cir. 2000); TMEP §1207.01(a)(i). They need only be “related in some manner and/or if the circumstances surrounding their marketing are such that they could give rise to the mistaken belief that [the goods and/or services] emanate from the same source.” Coach Servs., Inc. v. Triumph Learning LLC, 668 F.3d 1356, 1369, 101 USPQ2d 1713, 1722 (Fed. Cir. 2012) (quoting 7-Eleven Inc. v. Wechsler, 83 USPQ2d 1715, 1724 (TTAB 2007)); TMEP §1207.01(a)(i).

Applicant has applied to register the mark, ATLAS WILD in standard characters for "On-line retail store services featuring supplements" in International Class 035.

Registrant’s mark is ATLAS NUTRITION in standard characters for "Nutritional Supplements" in International Class 005.

The attached Internet evidence, consisting of screencaptures from the weblinks below, establishes that the same entity commonly manufactures, produces, or provides the relevant goods and/or services and markets the goods and/or services under the same mark.

<https://www.gnc.com/vitamins-supplements/>

https://www.walgreens.com/store/store/xpo_products.jsp?pluCode=2807

Thus, applicant's and registrant's goods and/or services are considered related for likelihood of confusion purposes. See, e.g., In re Davey Prods. Pty Ltd., 92 USPQ2d 1198, 1202-04 (TTAB 2009); In re Toshiba Med. Sys. Corp., 91 USPQ2d 1266, 1268-69, 1271-72 (TTAB 2009).

Further, the use of similar marks on or in connection with both products and retail-store services has been held likely to cause confusion where the evidence showed that the retail-store services featured the same type of products. See In re Detroit Athletic Co., 903 F.3d 1297, 1307, 128 USPQ2d 1047, 1051 (Fed. Cir. 2018) (holding the use of similar marks for various clothing items, including athletic uniforms, and for retail shops featuring sports team related clothing and apparel likely to cause confusion); In re Country Oven, Inc., 2019 USPQ2d 443903, at *12 (TTAB 2019) (holding the use of identical marks for bread buns and retail bakery stores and shops likely to cause confusion); In re House Beer, LLC, 114 USPQ2d 1073, 1078 (TTAB 2015) (holding the use of identical marks for beer and for retail store services featuring beer likely to cause confusion); TMEP §1207.01(a)(ii).

Accordingly, the goods and services are considered related for purposes of the likelihood of confusion analysis.

Conclusion

Because the marks are similar and the goods and services are related, there is a likelihood of confusion as to the source of applicant's goods and services. Therefore, applicant's mark is not entitled to registration.

Although applicant's mark has been refused registration, applicant may respond to the refusal(s) by submitting evidence and arguments in support of registration.

A healthy diet rich in fruits and vegetables is important for optimal health, and supplementation can also help you meet your nutritional needs. Most people can benefit from vitamins, minerals, antioxidants, and other supplements to help their bodies function at their highest potential.

Dietary changes, various internal and external stressors, the environment, and other factors might result in nutritional deficiencies. For example, in the winter months, you may have less vitamin D due to less exposure to the sun, or, periodically, your iron levels may decline for any number of reasons. As you get older, your body may not absorb vitamin B12 and other nutrients as well as it did when you were younger.

If your doctor has recommended that you add a glucosamine or chondroitin supplement to your diet, CVS is here to help. In this product selection, you'll find a diverse assortment of standalone and combination glucosamine or chondroitin supplements to meet your needs. You can browse the full selection or filter products to narrow down the options and find the best option in no time.

What Is Glucosamine Chondroitin?

Glucosamine is a substance that is naturally found in the fluid surrounding the joints. Chondroitin is a natural chemical that is present in cartilage, a substance that insulates joints throughout the body. Both glucosamine and chondroitin are manufactured by your body. Levels of the substances can be increased by taking supplements. When taken as a supplement, glucosamine chondroitin may help with the effects of arthritis, stiff joints, and other joint-related issues. Most chondroitin supplements contain chondroitin sulfate derived from shark or cow cartilage. Glucosamine supplements may contain a number of different types of glucosamine that is either naturally derived or manufactured in a lab.

What Does Glucosamine Do?

In the body, glucosamine and chondroitin are needed for healthy joints. Both materials play a role in cushioning the joints and help prevent bones from rubbing together as you move. Medical providers may recommend glucosamine and chondroitin supplements for general joint health. In addition, the supplements may be taken to address joint pain, stiffness and other symptoms of osteoarthritis. It is important to note there is not enough evidence to prove that supplements are beneficial for everyone.

What Is Glucosamine Used For?

Standalone supplements are one way to add glucosamine chondroitin to your diet. These products provide a serving of either glucosamine or chondroitin. Combination supplements supply both glucosamine and chondroitin. You can also find products that include glucosamine and chondroitin plus other substances believed to contribute to joint health, such as vitamin D3 and methylsulfonylmethane (MSM). Click on any of the products to learn more about its ingredients and potential benefits.

How Much Glucosamine Should You Take?

Unless otherwise instructed by your doctor, you should always follow the dosage directions on the label to determine how much glucosamine you should take.

What is MSM (methylsulfonylmethane)?

Methylsulfonylmethane (MSM) is a compound that is often used to treat arthritis, help with joint health, and aid in muscle recovery. Glucosamine supplements often contain MSM. This has become a very popular supplement due to its potential to help with bone health and your immune system.

When is the Best Time to Take Glucosamine Chondroitin MSM?

Adults who suffer from arthritis take supplements that can ease their pain. Glucosamine Chondroitin MSM is a supplement that has been identified as beneficial to ease the pain of arthritis.

Taking the supplement of Glucosamine Chondroitin MSM may help in the reduction of pain from arthritis and other joint complications. It can be taken as an alternative medicine to help treat osteoarthritis, muscle damage, and other inflammatory joint disorders.

Before taking this supplement if you have diabetes, bleeding disorder, asthma, prostate cancer, high cholesterol, or high blood pressure, make sure you talk to your doctor. There could be side effects that occur with this supplement that might interact with medications that are taken for these conditions.

Glucosamine Side Effects

When taking glucosamine chondroitin or another glucosamine supplement, always take it according to the manufacturer's directions. While this supplement has many benefits, there can be a few mild side effects although overall, it appears to be a safe product when taken in appropriate amounts. Some side effects may include diarrhea, heartburn, constipation, and nausea. Other things to be aware of when taking glucosamine include drowsiness, headaches, and mild skin reactions. If your side effects are severe or don't go away after several days, stop taking glucosamine and contact your doctor right away.

Glucosamine Benefits

Aside from promoting joint health, glucosamine may provide other benefits as well. It has been shown to be potentially effective at relieving the pain of TMJ osteoarthritis, a painful condition that affects the jaw. This supplement may also help with inflammation and has been shown to reduce the effects of conditions like IBD (inflammatory bowel disease), glaucoma, and multiple sclerosis. If you have any of these conditions, it's best to talk with your doctor before taking glucosamine.

Glucosamine for Joints

Glucosamine is best known for promoting healthy joints since it supports the development of the connective tissue between the joints. A lubricating fluid allows your bones to move freely without causing friction, which often results in pain while walking or standing. When you take glucosamine as directed, it can help to create the fluid your body needs to keep the joints from rubbing against one another. It may also protect the joint tissue by helping to prevent cartilage breakdown. If you suffer from joint pain, consider adding glucosamine to your supplement routine.

After reading the Office action, address any question(s) regarding the specific content to the USPTO examining attorney identified in the Office action.

GENERAL GUIDANCE

- Check the status of your application periodically in the Trademark Status & Document Retrieval \(TSDR\) database to avoid missing critical deadlines.
- Update your correspondence email address to ensure you receive important USPTO notices about your application.
- Beware of trademark-related scams. Protect yourself from people and companies that may try to take financial advantage of you. Private companies may call you and pretend to be the USPTO or may send you communications that resemble official USPTO documents to trick you. We will never request your credit card number or social security number over the phone. And all official USPTO correspondence will only be emailed from the domain “@uspto.gov.” Verify the correspondence originated from us by using your Serial Number in our database, TSDR, to confirm that it appears under the “Documents” tab, or contact the Trademark Assistance Center.

- Hiring a U.S.-licensed attorney. If you do not have an attorney and are not required to have one under the trademark rules, we encourage you to hire a U.S.-licensed attorney specializing in trademark law to help guide you through the registration process. The USPTO examining attorney is not your attorney and cannot give you legal advice, but rather works for and represents the USPTO in trademark matters.
